TESTIMONY IN THE BROWN CASE

Matter of Separate Maintenance Before Judge Hall.

SENATOR'S LAW PRACTICE.

Judge Henderson Says it is Worth $6,500 Per Annum-Petendant Presents Affidavits.

Further testimony on the motion for temporary alimony in the separate maintenance suit brought by Mrs. Isabelle Cameron Brown against Arthur Brown is being heard by Judge Hall today. Mrs. Brown asks for $350 per month temporary alimony pending the final determination of the suit. Judge Henderson was placed on the stand this reorning in behalf of plaintiff and testified that the net income from the law practice of himself and Senator Brown amounted to about $13,000 a year, the latter receiving one-half or $6,500 per year. Mrs. Brown was then re-called and was further cross-examined by Aity. Sam King as to the amount of money she had expended on the Brigham street bremises, the Idaho ranch other property owned by herself and the senator.

DEFENDANT'S AFFIDAVITS.

Defendant then opened his case by offering to introduce a number of affi-dayits relating to the value of his prop-erty in this state, Idaho, Michigan and Missouri. Atty. Varian, on behalf of plaintiff, objected to the introduction of the affidavits and contended that such matters should be brought before the court by the oral testimony of the wit-nesses or by deposition so that an opportunity would be afforded plaintiff of cross-examine the witnesses. Judge Hall ruled the affidavits out for the purpose of the hearing on the matter allmony, but allowed the attorney to read the two affidayits of Senator Brown in explanation of his oral testimony given later.

VALUATION OF PROPERTY. In his affidavits Senator Brown sets out that the Brigham street residence is same is worth about $3,000, and without the assistance of his wife states that his 2,000-acre ranch in Idaho is only worth about $25,000, while Mrs. Brown estimates its value in her com-plaint at $100,000. The affidavit states that the expenditures on the ranch have always exceeded the receipts and that the excess this year was about $5,000. The total value of property now owned by defendant is estimated in the affidavit at about $140,648. He claims that he is now indebted on notes, mortgages, taxes, etc., in the total sum of $35,373.26, his taxes alone being $957.56 this year.

HAS GIVEN HER MONEY.

His second affidavit set out that he had given Mrs. Brown various sums of ey at frequent intervals in the past ear or more ranging in amount from $50 to $500 at a time, and that he had always paid the household bills in addition to the money mentioned. Senator Brown was on the stand when this report closed. At the conclusion of his testimony the hear-ing went over until this afternoon.

PRESS OF THE WHOLE WEST SINGING THE PRAISES OF THE CHRISTMAS NEWS

It is in no wise an over statement of the facts to say that never has the ress of the western country been so the management degrees great praise for the magnificent edition. Turkeys are now retailing at 20 to 23 the facts to say that never has the press of the western country been so unanimous in its expressions of praise of a holiday edition as it has of the Deseret News Christmas number. The newspapers of all of the surrounding states, and in some that are more remote, have joined in the grand chorus of admiration for the work. There have been one or two exceptions at home, but that was entirely natural. The Heraid, which yesterday issued a very creditable New Year's paper itself, showed its appreciation of the "News" efforts in a handsome and well written editorial that is quoted below. The silence of the "News' " other morning contemporary is probably accounted for as it has been before, on the ground that it was simply unable to find words with which to express its admiration for an achievement that stands unequalled in the history of western newspaper work.

Salt Lake Herald: The Christmas edition of the Deseret News is a souvenir newspaper of which not enly the "News" but every Utah citizen may feel proud. The Herald has rarely seen a more elaborate production from any newspaper office. All of the illustrations are real works of art; more than that, they are timely, for they illus-trate in one way and another the state's progress in every line of successful achievement. The matter accom-panying the illustrations shows painstaking and accurate work. From be-ginning to end the Christmas "News" s lively, interesting and readable, advertisements and all.

Nell J. Sorensen & Co. of Sumpter. Ore., write: "We are thankful for an opportunity of reading the Christmas edition of such a valuable paper as the "News," as it was certainly complete, with a great deal of valuable information. We will file it away.

Seymour H. Bell, Sumpter, Ore.: The Deseret News Christmas number is really a great issue for a city—the size of Salt Lake.

Idaho Register: The Christmas edition of the Salt Lake Deseret News was surely a hummer. It contained 88 pages. The central figure of the cover, which was beautifully illustrated, was the great Shoshone Falls. There was one shee of eight pages devoted to Idaho, printed on fine book paper, and containing cuts of many prominent buildings and scenes of the state. The entire paper was filled with interesting matter concerning the Rocky mountain country.

THREE HUNDRED CARS EN ROUTE

Big Order Filled for the Oregon Short Line for Steel Gondolas.

DELIVERY IS NEXT WEEK.

One of the Biggest Orders for 100,000-Pound Capacity Steel Coal Cars For the West.

One of the largest consignments of rolling stock for a western road is now on its way from the east in the form of 300 black steel drop-bottom gondolas, each of 100,000 pounds' capacity, which were ordered by the Oregon Short Line last summer. J. F. Dunn, superintendent of motive power and machinery, recently returned from Butler, Pa., where he passed on the order prior to its leaving the works of the Standard Steel Car company.

The cars, most of them, have been reported at Chicago and are now on their way west loaded with steel rails for the Southern Pacific and Oregon Short Line, iron pipe and structural iron and steel, coke for Casper, Wyo, and other commodities, and the advance guard is expected to arrive on the Short Line within the next ten

With this big consignment of much needed cars the Short Line will be in position to handle the ever growing coal business of Kemmerer, Diamond-ville and other coal camps with dis-patch and at the same time fill a long needed want. As the new cars have flat bottoms they can be used as either dump or shovel cars.

During the year now drawing to. close grades were rectified on 288 miles of the line of the Oregon Short Line, the track being raised in some cases as much as six feet and lowered as much as four feet. One hunderd and forty-four miles of the track were ballasted.

H. R. Brown, draughtsman in the car department of Pocatello, who was stricken with paralysis some time ago, has been brought to St. Mark's hospital for treatment.

Pocatello Tribune: The equipmen for the Short Line temporary hospital is on the road and Dr. Wright is expecting the same to arrive at any time. The beds, bandages and other articles arrived some time ago, but the operating table and instruments have not so far shown up. These things have been ordered and as soon as above stated are expected to arrive at any time. The location of the hospital is the old Y. M. C. A. building on Harrison avenue, the first building to the north of Superintendent Manson's residence.

The old saying that you can't hurt a drunken man is illustrated by the following story from the Moscow Mirror: "John Sanburn, a Swede at Sandpoint, Idaho, got drunk and lay down on the railroad track and went to sleep. The west bound passenger train came along at a rapid speed and the engineer did not see the man on the engineer did not see the man on the track and the pilot lifted him from his resting place and buried him into the ditch fully twenty feet from the track. The engineer saw his fall in the ditch and stopped the train and he was put aboard in an unconscious condition and taken to the station. About six hours afterwards, he awakened and his first remark was, "I tank aye like one drink." He was not inpured in the least and went off happy.

The Short Line is pushing work on its bridges both at Huntington and American Falls. The engineering de-partment expects to finish the iron work on the American Falls bridge on the 10th of January and the Hunting-ton bridge on the 20th of January. THE AFTERNOON CALL.

Stocks Still Remained in a Depressed Condition. The afternoon call of the stock exchange brought forth no improvement in the condition of the local market. The trading was confined to the pros pective class; none of the heavier stocks participating in the trading. The sales posted at the close of the session were as follows:
